Correlative Conjunctions Practice

Practice 1: Choose the correct pair of correlative conjunctions to complete each sentence. In some cases, more than one pair may be possible. If that is the case, select only 1. The first one is done for you.

a. both...and	b. not only...but also	c. either...or	d. neither...nor
---------------	------------------------	----------------	------------------

1. ____ my sister ____ brother are married with children.

A--Notice the plural verb "are." This means it cannot be "not only...but also," "either...or," or "neither...nor."

2. Julie eats ____ red meat ____ chicken because she is a vegetarian.

3. The mother told her child that he could have ____ ice cream ____ cookies for dessert, but not both.

4. If you would like to receive dual citizenship, ____ your mother ____ your father had to have been born in another country. For example, Mary's mom is from Spain, and her Dad is from the U.S., which means that she has dual citizenship!

5. ____ does the school accept international students ____ it offers them a special scholarship.

6. After a long day at work, John is so tired that he can ____ cook dinner ____ exercise. Instead, he watches TV and picks up some fast food.

7. The strict teacher said that students can ____ chew gum ____ use electronics during class.

8. Gary wants to be a triathlete, but there is just one problem. He can ____ ride a bike ____ run very well, but he does not know how to swim.

9. ____ New York ____ California host popular beaches.

10. ____ students ____ the teacher works very hard to prepare for each class; it is a combined effort!
